The End Of The Day; Some Leave;
Some Stay

Familiar faces, familiar places bring unfamiliar experiences for the people who tread the halls of MacArthur. Each and every one builds a treasure of knowledge, ideas, and hopes, each unique in its own. Who knows what fame and fortune awaits those who leave these hallowed halls? Each sets out on his own path to profit from his hard earned treasure.

Return Of The First

A week of festivities for the first MHS homecoming was climaxed on October 27. Returning to join in the celebration were '67 graduates—members of the first graduating class of MacArthur.

Highlighting the eventful evening was the crowning of Mac's first homecoming queen, Becky Johnson. Miss Johnson was competing against Pat Foytic, Ann Wood, and Cathy Tilden for the coveted title.

Each class selected a princess to complete the queen's court. Debbie Burrow was selected by the junior class, Alexa Morykwas by the sophomores, and the freshmen chose Denise Morgan.

Also winning awards during the spirit week were the students of Miss Davis' homeroom 105, which was chosen as the best decorated classroom, and Bill Stanford, who won a free Crest when his name was drawn from the list of subscribers.

Cards lined city streets to watch MacArthur's first homecoming parade.

1100 bright balloons sailed skyward as Cards cheered their team to victory.

Spirited Cards were on hand for the bonfire-pep rally.

One of the more cleverly decorated cars was that representing the Spanish Club.

Welcoming back MHS alumni was the colorful Crest car.

As a "welcome home" present, Mac provided an unforgettable reception for the alumni. The reception took place after the pep rally, and all ex's were invited to attend. Later that afternoon the marching Cardinal Band and Cardettes presented a grand parade. Joining in the parade were decorated cars representing almost every school organization.

To top off an already perfect evening, a dance was given in the cafeteria after the game. "The Beefeaters" provided the entertainment.

'67-'68

Spirit . . .

"Hey! Hey!" Let's hear it" cry the spirit center of Mac. "We've got spirit!" blasts an out-of-sight student body in reply. Headed by Jorja Williams, the '67-'68 cheerleaders, Becky Johnson, Suzi Sharp, Bonnie Woodward, Virginia Davidson, and Cindy Cooper, work long and hard to make MHS the greatest school around. Presenting skits on the history of the Cardinals, arranging car caravans, and spicing spirit pep rallies are a few of the services of these truly dedicated Cards. We're proud to have them on our side!

Big Mac Keepers Generate School Spirit

Seen at every game and pep rally proudly carrying a sign or mascot, the Big Mac Keepers (pictured below) are constantly busy generating spirit. Booster posters of all sorts, and boastfully decorated goal posts have been donated to MHS through their endless efforts.

Big Mac Keepers support our boys 110%.

Junior Big Mac Keepers are Dan Wallace and Darlene Venable.

Most Spirited Cards Are Elected

According to tradition, MHS students annually elect a Mr. and Miss School Spirit. Those who are chosen are students who noticeably generate Cardinal spirit.

This year Mr. and Miss School Spirit are Dick Crider and Pat Foytic. This is the third consecutive year Dick has been chosen, and the first for Pat. Both have participated in sport and spirit activities and have proven to be enthusiastic Cards.

Cardette sponsor, Mrs. Hurst, congratulates Pat.

A round of applause went up when it was announced that Dick had won for the third time.

Freshmen Choose Sadie Hawkins Theme For Party

Donning cut-off jeans and ragged overalls, members of the freshman class attended their Sadie Hawkins Party, February 9, as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Marryin' Sam was kept busy hitchin' young couples, while "The Unaccounted Four" provided music for the lively Frosh.

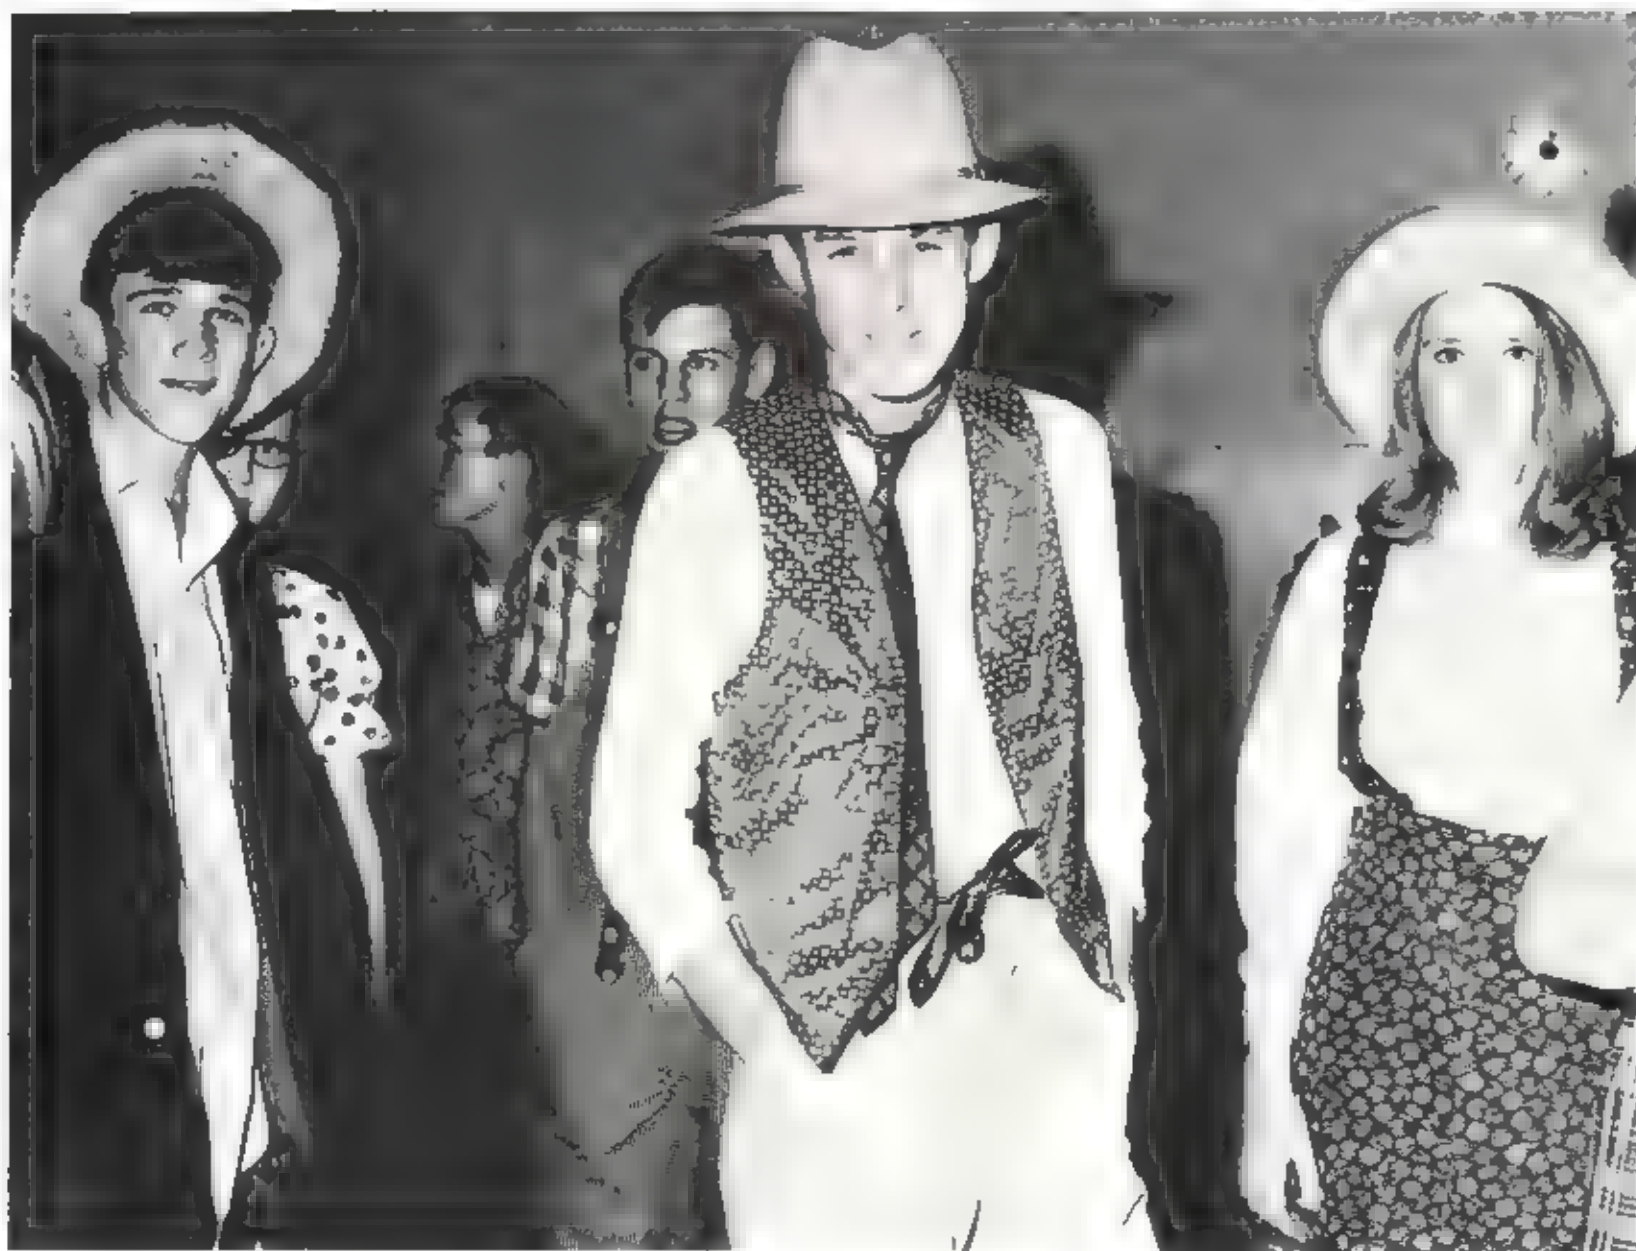

"Howdy, ma'am, sure is frilly ain't it?" drawls Johnny Martin

Tom Watkins and Barbara Brewer wistfully wish this evening would never end.

Frosh dance the night away while "The Unaccounted Four" set the mood.

Hello, this is Johnny Martin's gang welcoming you to our Sadie Hawkins Party.

Cynthia Cavelle dashes for the Li'l Abner she has sighted.

Glenda Barnett looks like Sadie Hawkins from her head to - well, almost to her toes.

Sophs Go Mod At Freak-Out

Knee-high boots, owlsh sunglasses, and psychedelic lights were the fanfare of the Sophomore Freak-Out, February 17. Swinging to the way-out music of "The Mystics," the mod Sophs tried the latest in the "in" dances.

Do you believe in flower power?

MacArthur's very own hippie makes a first appearance at Sophomore Freak-Out.

Marsha Duckworth goes into hysterics at the sight of a camera.

These boots were made for walking ...

Renée Helms seems to be mystified by "The Mystics".

Trilingual Christmas Party

Joyeux Noël; Feliz Año Nuevo! Fröhliche Weihnachten! These seasonal greetings of Merry Christmas and Happy New Year were exchanged at the annual language clubs' Christmas party, December 8. The party was financed with proceeds from the second annual Powderpuff Football Tournament between the German, French, and Spanish clubs. Entertainment was provided by "The Herd."

Señoritas serve refreshments at Spanish club's booth.

Sheila Burns and date dance to the music of "The Herd".

Earl Whitley and his date, Marilyn Haxleton, exhibit a modern version of the Cha-Cha-Cha.

MHS student Greg Luntz plays the organ for "The Herd."

"Aye, aye, what a fiesta!" exclaims Senorita Donna Simmons.

Mac's Two Greatest Classes Enjoy Party Together

The party seemed to be infiltrated with military men.

Brenda Michael and Jerry Fischer swing to the music of "The DeVelles."

Decorating the junior-senior party on December 22, was a huge Christmas tree centerpiece. Students gathered with expectations of dancing to the music of Jesse Lopez. Due to an unfortunate accident, however, Jesse was unable to attend. Stepping in to cover for him was a popular local group, "The DeVelles."

'67 graduate, Mike Doss, and senior Carol Vinson enjoy a long awaited reunion.

Band Surprises Cardettes

Almost as good as this year's Cardettes were the band's Crudettes.

To commemorate the '67-'68 football (performance) season, members of MacArthur's "A" Band surprised the Cardettes with a party in their honor. Hilarious skits were performed depicting previous years' performances and the band presented the Cardettes with an unforgettable gift—a Mattel See'n Say Music Maker.

There was a lot of food on hand. (Thank goodness!)

Looks like the dolls, Gail Haugarth and Becky Pittman, have got the guys, James Mershon and Wayne Ruyle, trapped.

MacArthur's Mob Meets

Posing for the camera are pretty Pam Wilas and Hayden "Madman" Meredith.

MHS student, Gary Castleberry, plays the drums for "The Herd."

Bonnies and Clydes, representing various parts of the community, met in the MacArthur High School cafeteria on March 23, for one of the biggest underground movements in history. The hosts and hostesses enjoyed a little murderous fun with the junior class mobsters. Above the noise of the machine guns, "The Herd" was heard playing some of the latest pop music.

Displaying some of the 20's dances are machine-gunnist James Mershon and his girl, Gail Haugarth.

Thespians Present

MHS Thespians presented the first Texas production of "The Giant's Dance" on December 15 and 16. The play, written by Otis Bigelow, is set in western England, 470 A.D. Costumes were designed by C. Gay Smith, well-known costume designer from Oklahoma. Sets were copied directly from the New York production by MHS drama director Bill Smith.

Love-stricken Allisande, portrayed by Becky Smiser, seeks the advice of Merlin the Magician.

Football Sweetheart Announced At Banquet

Football boys and their dates enjoy the European menu at Little Bit of Sweden.

Once again, our healthy football boys chose to have their banquet at Little Bit of Sweden, which, incidentally, has an all-you-can-eat menu. Amateur photographer, Gregg Parr, exhibited his favorite hobby by taking the pictures shown on this page. At the climax of the meal, the football captains announced the '68 Football Sweetheart, Pat Foytik.

Tejas Room Selected By Both Cardettes And Band

Mrs. Hurst presents the Most Valuable Cardette award to Linda Jessup.

Proudly, Gregg Parr receives his plaque for being named Cardette Favorite.

A round of applause is given to Band Sweetheart, Claire Martin.

Both the Band and the Cardettes chose to have their banquets in the Tejas Room of the newly-erected Irving Bank Tower. Members of the band announced their '68 Sweetheart, Claire Martin. At the climax of the Cardette Banquet, the Cardettes presented Linda Jessup as Most Valuable Cardette and Gregg Parr as Cardette Favorite.

Spring Fever Strikes MacArthur

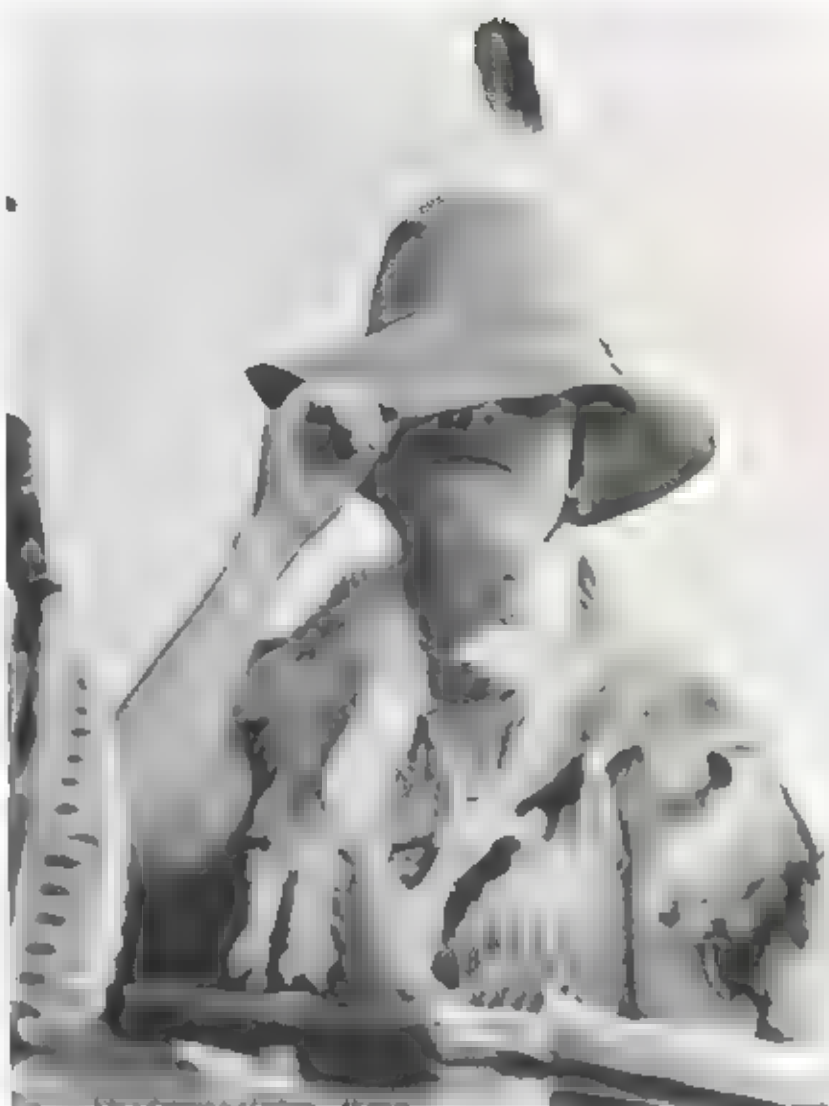

An epidemic of spring fever took students' minds off their school work for a week during April. The fun-filled week began with the selling of freshman, Cardette, and letterman slaves. A kiteflying contest on Thursday added to the fun, and on Western Friday there was a tug-of-war between the Indians and the Cowboys, with the Indians claiming the victory. The week of activities ended with a combination carnival and dance in the two gyms.

Mr. Lumpkin attempts a basket at the language clubs' carnival booth.

Mrs. Nancy Sullivan gets into the act.

Smooth dancer Bob Wood is seen here with date Renee Le Tendre.

Debbie Pippi has discovered that some Western wear isn't really practical for school.

Senior Play Finances Prom

Revolving around the wandering soul of prizefighter, Joe Pendleton, "Heaven Can Wait" was presented in the MacArthur Auditorium, March 7, 8, and 9. This comedy, written by Harry Segal, features murder, flying saxophones, and conversations with angels.

The entire senior class worked hard to make the production a success. Proceeds go toward financing the Senior Prom.

Mrs. Farnsworth swirls to meet her accomplice in murder, Tony Abbott.

Max Levene, played by Chuck Dodds, begs the angelic Mr. Jordan to help Joe.

"Do you know what I saw, Mrs. Ames?" asks the gossiping Susie.

Senior star Gregg Parr makes his acting debut as prizefighter, Joe Pendleton.

Camelot Comes To Life

Camelot, the legendary court of King Arthur, comes to life once again, as the MacArthur A Capella Choir presented the colorful musical. Wearing brightly-colored full-length gowns and dashing doublets, the cast sang of the many love affairs, the miserable life of a king, and the pastimes of the "simple folk."

John Watson as the heroic King Arthur gave another admirable performance singing "I Wonder What the King is Doing Tonight."

As a grand finale, the A Capella Choir hurst forth with merry cheer singing "Camelot."

Performing an entertaining duet are Gail Poag and Gary Flemmons.

Sharon Word sings about the "simple joys of maidenhood."

Suzi Sharp wears a look of surprise as Mike Conner whisks her up in his arms during their duet.

Gregg Parr — Mr. MHS

Pati Foytik — Miss MHS

Mr. and Miss MHS Represent Ideal Teenager

Mr. and Miss MHS, as well as the Ten Top-Seniors, are not chosen in a popularity contest. The first step in deciding who will represent MHS is to have each teacher send in nominations of any senior he feels will meet the qualifications. These selections are based not only on scholastic average, but also on the student's community and school interests, goals, ideas, and outlook on life. After the nominations are returned to the Crest Staff, nominees receive a questionnaire, which includes courses, grades, activities, interests, and future plans. Then, a selected panel of teachers judges each nominee and determines first of all Mr. and Miss MHS, and secondly, from the rest of the nominations, the Ten Top Seniors.

This year's Mr. and Miss MHS are Gregg Parr and Pat Foytik. Gregg, a good-looking and intelligent guy, feels that football and a football scholarship are the high points of his high school years. After studying at the University of Colorado, Gregg plans to pursue a career in chemistry.

Pat, a charming girl with an eye on fashion, enjoys modeling in her spare time and is competing for a scholarship from Bobbie Brooks fashions. A career in fashion merchandising is Pat's goal for the future. Both Pat and Gregg meet the qualifications needed to represent MHS, which, in Pat's words, include being "properly trained to have respect for their own moral and religious behavior as well as that of others."

MHS

It's no wonder that STEVE NANCE was chosen as the Who's Who for science. Even with a tough course like PSSC physics (with analytical geometry and elementary analysis on the side), Steve has kept an 8.92 grade average. Difficult? Maybe for the average student, but not for Steve. Last summer he attended a summer science program at Texas A&M, where, under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation, he studied Engineering Science.

Bruce Hamm accepts Who's Who award.

Carrying out the tradition started by former students, the CREST staff presents for the second time the MHS Who's Who. In choosing a student which has proven ability in a specific field of study, consideration is given to past and present grades, class participation and personal interest. The decisions are difficult to make, but they are definitely well made.

Drum Major and president of the Science Club, BRUCE HAM is also a member of the National Honor Society and the Rocket Club. He plans to attend Rice University and obtain at least a Master's Degree in some phase of math or physics. Afterwards he hopes to work for NASA.

JANIE POOLE, a hard, conscientious worker, has taken five business courses. She has competed in UIL Typing and won third in State UIL Shorthand. Typing 75 words a minute and taking dictation at the rate of 140 words a minute, Janie is the efficient secretary.

An art student for four years MYRA THORNTON shows enthusiasm for painting in oils. She has entered all the art shows at MHS, winning ribbons every year. Her interest in the art field has prompted her to enroll at the Dallas Art Institute for the coming year.

Her active interest in the music field accounts for DONNA AKERS' appointment as Mac's Who's Who in music. She has been in the A Capella Choir since her freshman year and has served as an officer of the choir. Besides her musical talent, Donna shows remarkable ability in drama. She has won the distinction of being best actress in our UIL district.

Donna Akers presents Mr. Hart a gift from the choir.

Fine Arts Who's Who Exhibit Talent

MARY COX, an Honor Thespian, is the actor that is not seen. She is a behind-the-scenes worker. Working with costume crews for the past two years, Mary has helped with productions such as "Giant's Dance," "Heaven Can Wait," and "Cave Dwellers." This year she has also been on the prop crew for "Giant's Dance". Mr. Bill Smith says that Mary is a hard worker who is capable of getting things done.

Serving as 1967-68 FTA President, NANCY LONG has participated in many extra-curricular activities. She donated much of her extra time writing the "Cardinal's Perch." Nancy has been debating for two years. This year, without a class period to work on debating, she entered UIL debates and placed second. Her hard work has made her Who's Who for Speech.

Planning to enter some branch of foreign service, DEBBIE POND lists foreign languages as one of her major interests. She has spent an "unforgettable" summer studying in Europe. At present Debbie is enrolled in French, German, and Spanish and is a member of their respective clubs.

REX BLACKBURN, trustworthy, responsible, a definite leader, is one of the few A+ students in physical education. He has an outstanding physical fitness record. His standing broad jump, 8'7", ties the school record and his 100 yd. dash timing is fifth in the school.

Rex Blackburn tutors for the National Honor Society.

P.E. And Electives As Well As Academic Subjects Require Hard Work

ELAINE KRAFT has taken every Social Studies course offered except World Geography. She plans a major in the field of Social Studies and is also interested in Library Science. Her outstanding academic achievement and her interest in people and in helping others, helped her achieve her place as one of Mac's Who's Who.

KAREN SOUILLIARD, a neat hard worker since her freshman year, doesn't hide her interest in English. Even with taking STS English since her freshman year, Karen has kept an A average.

JERI PIERCE has maintained a high average in physical fitness during her four years in high school. Chosen because of her "good athletic ability and skill combined with poise," she enjoys all phases of physical education.

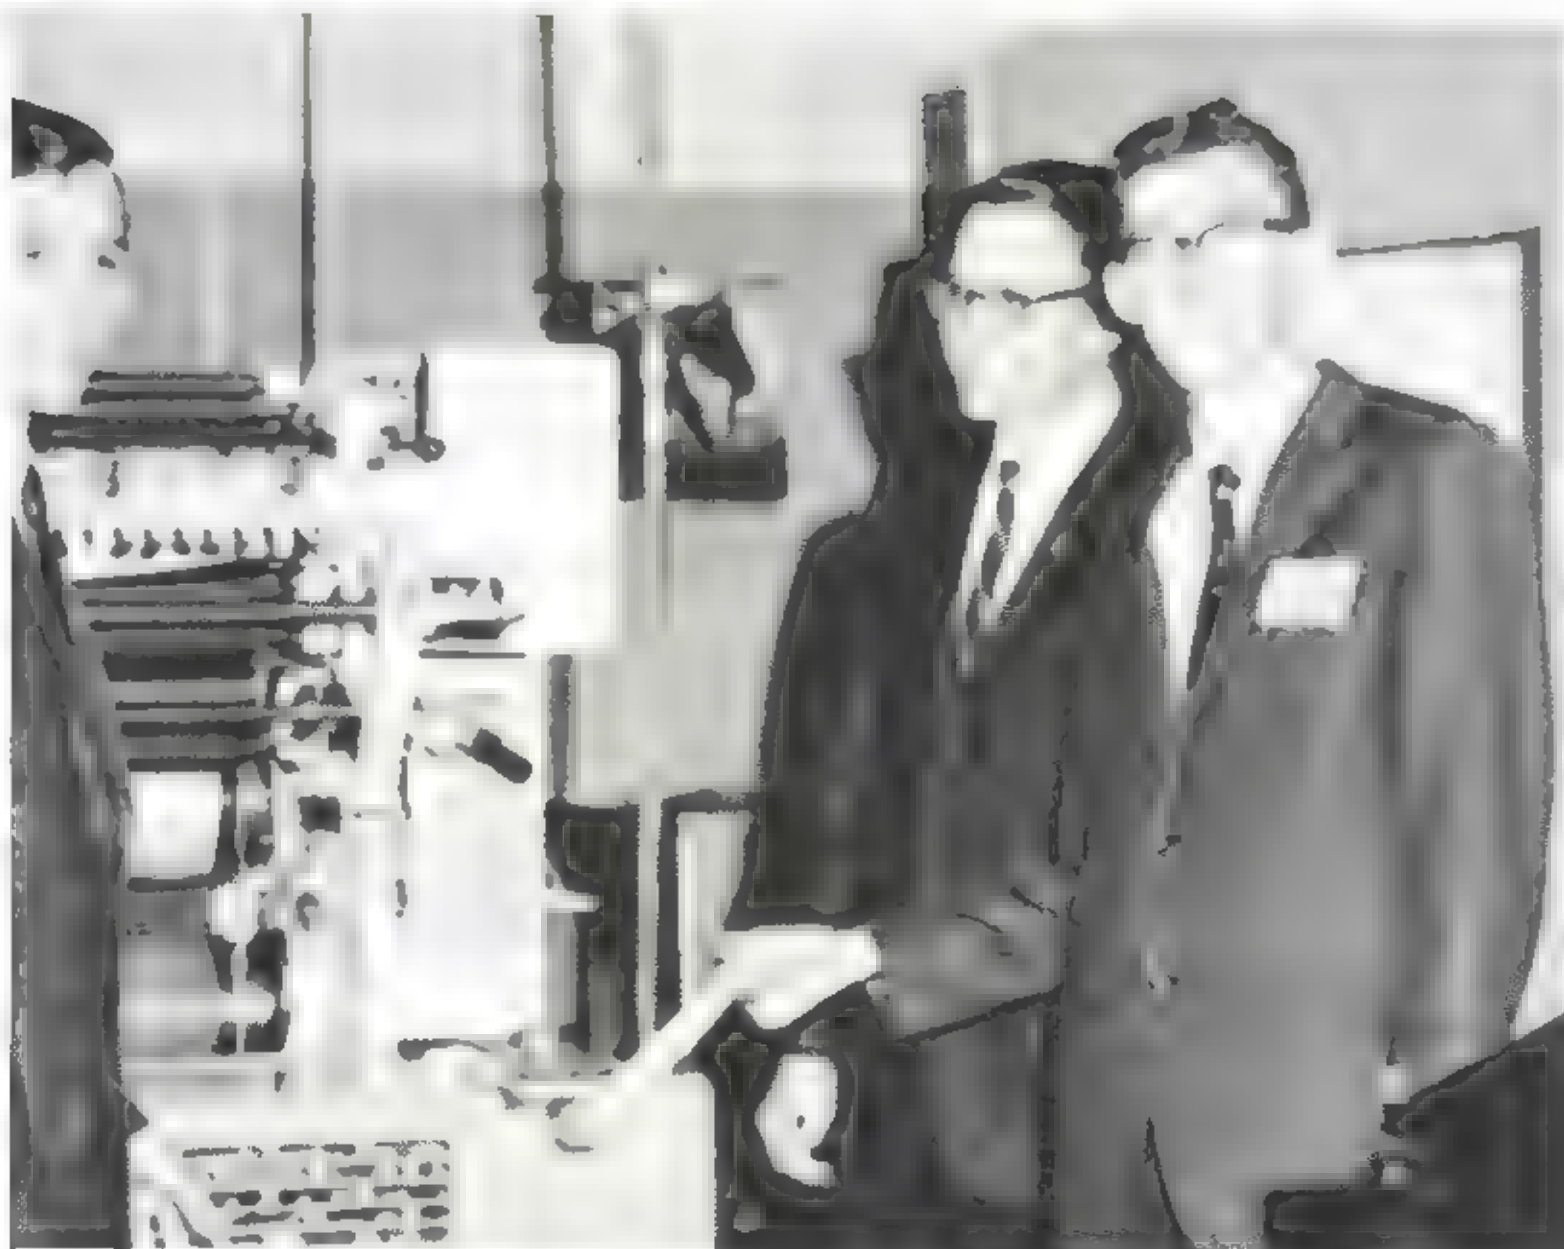

Serving as President of the MacArthur chapter of DECA, JAMES MALONE has participated in area and state contests and has won awards in selling. He is currently employed at Radio Shack and in this way is fulfilling his desire "to better myself in the field of distribution." Future plans include majoring in business and later entering business on the management level.

A Who's Who Title Is The Reward For A Job Well Done

Besides being a hard worker, CAROL MARTIN serves as club parliamentarian and club Sweetheart. At the present time she is training as a dental assistant for Dr. Stubbs, a local orthodontist. This year she won the respected title of STATE TREASURER for VICA. In district meets this year, Carol placed first in student selected jobs, and third in the notebook division. At state she placed second in student selected jobs. Carol's enthusiasm and willingness make her one of the outstanding members of the club.

Jerry Bunch guides Dave Lunt, President of the Dallas Latho Club, on a tour of the MacArthur Print Shop.

JERRY BUNCH, a second year printing student, serves as president of VICA #337. Several of his student specified jobs were rated outstanding in both district and state meets. In addition, Jerry was chosen as The Outstanding Printer in district and in state competition.

SHARON KEMP, who has earned 4½ credits in homemaking, is currently serving as President of the FHA. She has earned her junior degree in FHA, which is based upon personal goals as well as contributions to home, school, and community. Mrs. Jean Barton says that Sharon was chosen because "she has repeatedly demonstrated ability, poise, dependability, tact, and graciousness."

"Cardinal Capers" Follows Roaring 20's Theme

Sharon Word, as Mandy, impersonates Al Jolson.

"Cardinal Capers" reviewed the Roaring 20's, the era of the speak-easy, floppers, and Black Friday. An "Academy Awards" presentation during the second act revealed Mac's Ten Top Seniors and Mr. and Miss MHS.

The Sponsors of the Outburst, Mrs. Ginna Rhodes, Mr. Jerry Cottingame, and the CREST staff, chose not to conform with the traditional Annual Outburst of reviewing the past year. As a result of this decision and two months of rehearsals, the Outburst proved to be better than ever.

Pat Foytik and Greg Parr smile for the camera after receiving their trophies for Mr. and Miss MHS.

Sharon Countryman aggressively convinces Mark Terry to sing her a song.

Student Council Aids Administration

Being the governing body of the school, the MacArthur Student Council assists in the management of the school, emphasizes good citizenship and the improvement of the school's morale, and promotes the general welfare of the school.

Among their many projects, the Council publishes a student directory, donates canned goods to needy families, plans the Homecoming activities, and is in charge of the school "spirit week." They also sell Cardinal decals and Big Mac pins.

One member from each home room is chosen to represent the student body at the bi-monthly meetings. Assisting in student government is a great honor.

For MHS

Captain
BARBARA NELSON

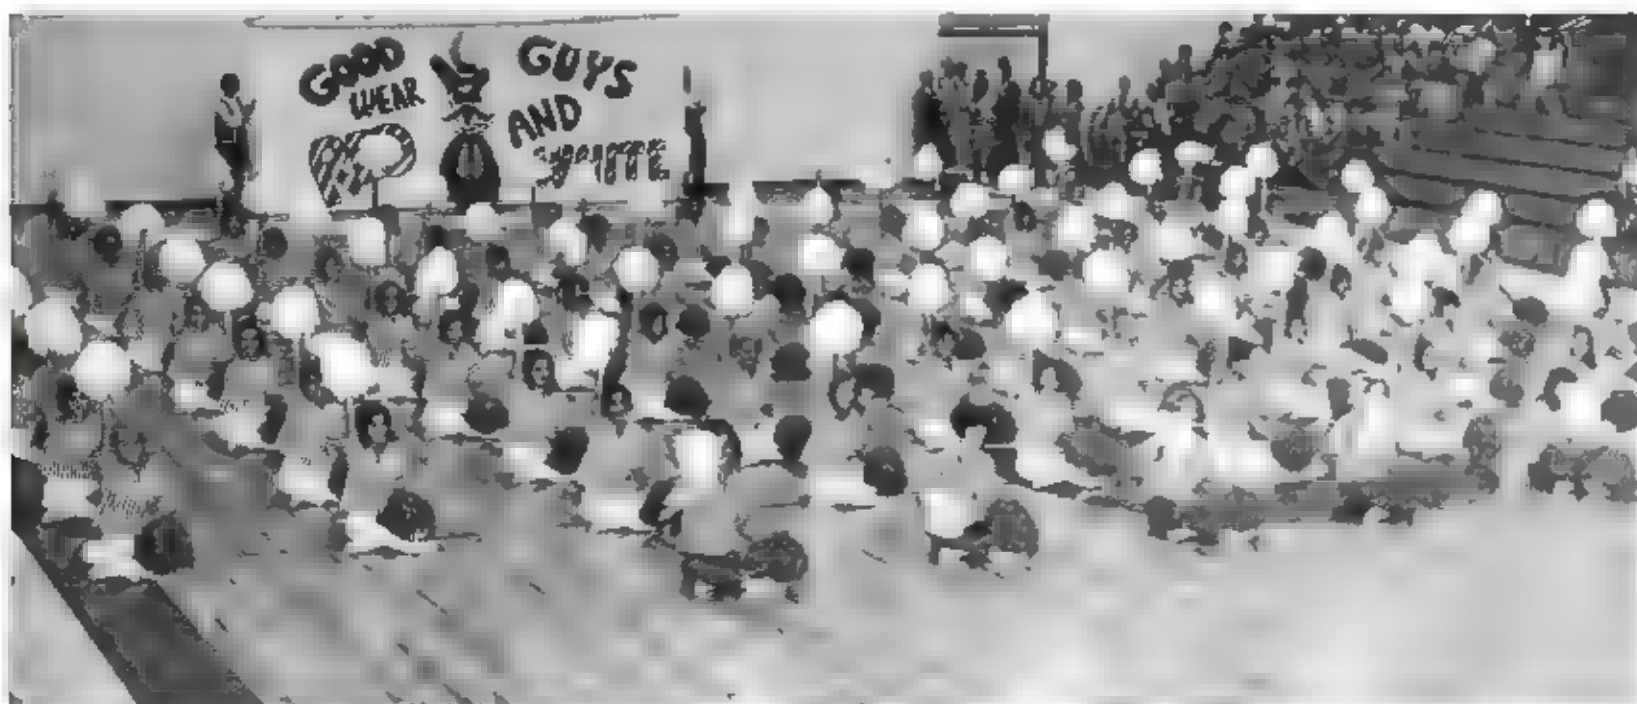

Leaders are Pat Foytik, Janice Cannon, Cindi Mizell, and kneeling: Pam Parks.

Stepping high for MHS, the Cardettes do their best to show spirit for the Cardinals at football games, basketball games, and baseball games. Not only do the Cardettes boost spirit with their presence and unfailing smiles, but also with booster posters that they make for football and basketball players.

Continuing to work on routines even after football season, Cardettes rehearse basketball routines and the juniors work on leader tryouts. It is not all work and no play, for the Cardettes were given parties on two occasions by the band and Mrs. Hurst. Also, each year the Cardettes are honored with a banquet.

What would Cardettes be without Mrs. Hurst? They could not exist without her dedication to the drill team. She gives a great deal of her time and energy to making the Cardettes the best drill team in the country. Mrs. Hurst does not come to school at 8:00 and leave at 3:45, calling it a day. There are general meetings, pep rallies, and football, basketball, and baseball games she must attend. She also donates many summer hours to early morning practices. On several occasions, Mrs. Hurst has used her fierce determination to secure uniforms and equipment for her girls. She receives no material gain for her long hours and unfailing determination. Her only reward comes when she sees the excellent performances and smiles of the Cardettes.

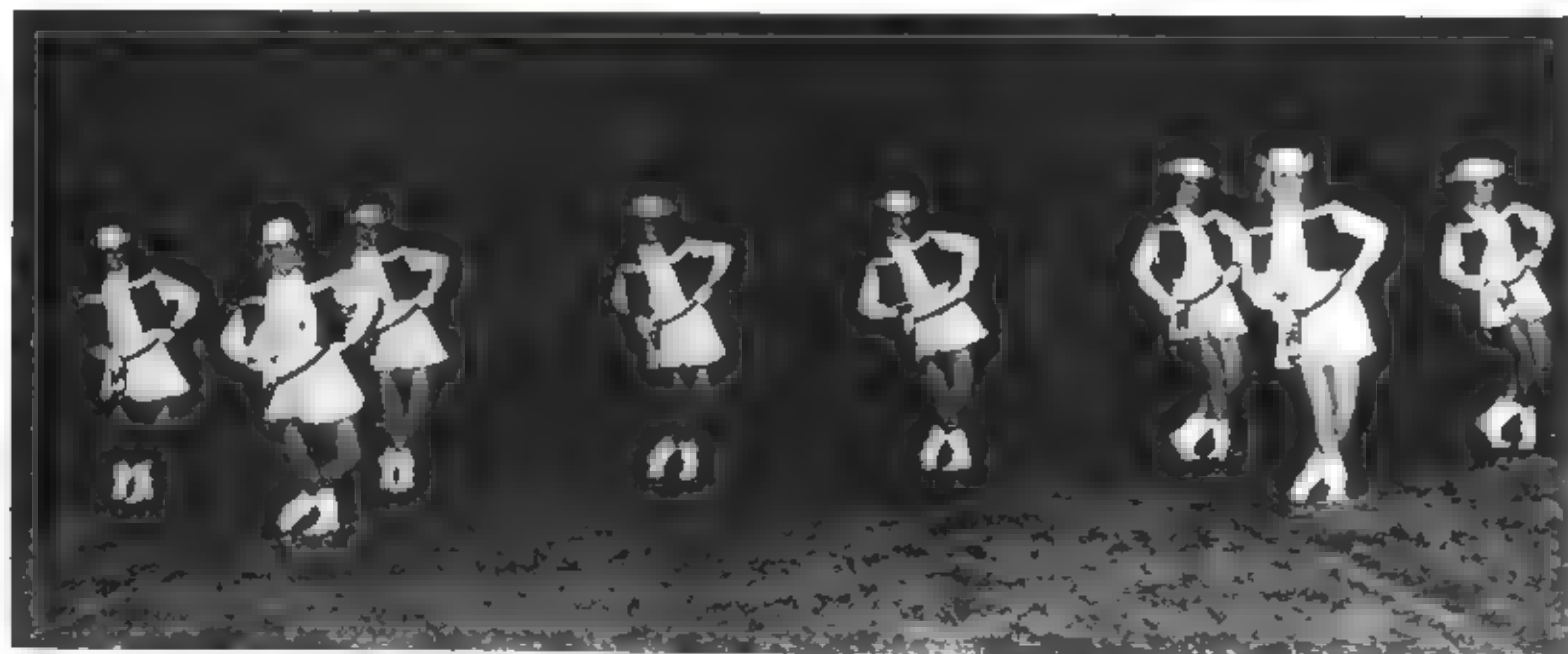

Dedication Is Rewarded

By popular vote, Linda Jessup is the Most Valuable Cardette for 1968.

Cardinal Band

Mr. Herrington and Mr. Jackson discuss plans for all-region tryouts hosted by MacArthur.

Band Boosts Cardinal Spirit

Now in its fifth year, the MacArthur High School Band is regarded as one of the outstanding in the state. In its brief existence the band has amassed a number of honors that would, in most bands, require many years.

Under the direction of Jim Herrington and Jim Jackson, the Cardinal Band competed at the L. D. Bell Marching Festival, UIL marching and concert contest, and UIL solo and ensemble contest, winning honors at all of them.

In addition to their inter-scholastic activities, these ardent musicians performed at pep rallies, football games, and several concerts during the year. The fans at the Cotton Bowl enjoyed a half time show executed by MacArthur.

Concert Band Accents Excellence

The MacArthur Stage Band offers the bandsman a chance to study modern music and jazz. It has its own concert season and performs, on invitation, at the state stage band festival each year. Membership in this organization is honorary.

The hard-working Concert Band is headed by James Webster, social director; Peggy Bruck, secretary-treasurer; Anne Myers, president; and David Parry, vice-president.

Mr. Jackson types up the results of the all-region band tryouts.

In the MacArthur Concert Band, students train for the marching and symphonic bands. This organization has a reputation for excellence, having won honors in all competitions in which it was entered.

This group's active schedule includes UIL concert, solo, and ensemble competition, not to mention school concerts and performances at B team football games.

The director, Jim Jackson, is not only the conductor of the Concert Band, but is also the assistant director of the Cardinal Marching Band and the director of the stage band.

Harmony Is The Spirit Of The A Capella Choir

The 1968 MacArthur choral program consists of the A Capella Choir, "B" Choir, Girls Chorus, and the Madrigal Singers. These choirs, directed by Mr. Danny Hart, work together to present many concerts throughout the year, to represent MacArthur in the Interscholastic League Contest and McKinney Choir Festival, and to present programs for various service organizations.

The purpose of the choral program is to further the appreciation, understanding, and performance of outstanding choral literature. In developing a concert choir, Mr. Hart has proven that the choral program can capably represent MHS in the various musical activities.

Thespians Entertain Students

The MacArthur Chapter of the National Thespian Association, sponsored by Mr. Bill Smith, has earned a position of respect as one of the largest, most active clubs at M.H.S. This organization seeks to promote interest in dramatic arts and to encourage the development of stage talents.

In order to enable all members to fully participate in stage productions, the Thespians increased their activities this year to include two plays in addition to the senior play. Some of their other endeavors involve U.I.L. One-Act Play Contest, U.I.L. speech and drama competition, invitational speech tourneys, and the Annual Outburst.

Thespian executives consist of Donna Akers, secretary; Karen King, clerk; Nancy Long, treasurer; Jerry Fischer, president; Bill Smith, sponsor; and John Watson, vice president.

Riding in the Thespian car in the M.H.S. Homecoming Parade were Richard Marcel, Shelly Frost, Christy Finley, and Terry Maxwell.

Thespians Win Honors

BEST THESPIAN

Jerry Fischer served as president of the Thespians and earned the title "Honored Thespian" through active participation in all phases of play production.

BEST ACTRESS

Through her roles in "Giants' Dance" and "Heaven Can Wait," Katherine Howard was chosen as the outstanding actress in the Thespian organization.

BEST ACTOR

The title of "best actor" belongs to John Watson because of his interpretation of major roles in "Giants' Dance," "Heaven Can Wait," and "The Cave Dwellers."

Becky Smiser and Jerry Fischer were chosen best supporting actress and actor because of their outstanding work in "Giants' Dance."

Mr. Bill Smith sponsored the Thespians and acted as an advisor in all Thespian matters.

Alpha Rho Tau Blends Spirit With Color

Alpha Rho Tau, an organization sponsored by Mrs. Kelly, strives for dedication, individual competition, and appreciation of art. Each member of the Art Club is given the chance to express himself and develop his own techniques, philosophies, and values. A lot of hard work and fun go into this worthwhile club. On March 6 through 22, Alpha Rho Tau sponsored its annual art show for MacArthur talent. The work was judged by members of the Irving Art Association; first, second, and third place awards were given in all areas of work. All through the year, Art Club members have more than enough work to keep them busy. During football season, the organization made all the goal post signs for home football games. In the spring, these talented Cards gave their skills to others in need of their talents. One of these was the Cardinal Capers, for whom they built many sets.

ART officers are Lois Brockles, president; Debbie Sutton, reporter; Renee LeTendre, vice-president; Lynn Shimamoto, secretary-treasurer; and Patti Hogan, parliamentarian.

Forensics League Enters MHS Society

In its first year of existence at MacArthur, the Forensic League has entered local speech tournaments at Jesuit, Denton, and the University of Houston. These tournaments helped students learn how to participate in speech activities. At the end of the year, a boy and girl were selected as outstanding members of the club. The graduating seniors were also honored with a spring banquet.

Grecian orations are revived by the Forensics League officers: Becky Smiser, publicity chairman; Jan Akin, secretary; John Watson, president; Nancy Long, reporter-historian; June Shepherd, treasurer; Jillene Smith, parliamentarian; and Mr. Jerry Cottingame, sponsor.

Quill Scroll And

Quill and Scroll, a newly organized honor society for high school journalists, held its first initiation and installation ceremony in January. Irving High's chapter initiated fifteen MacArthur journalism students, along with several of their own in the candlelight ceremony. Among these were Davey Horton, the newly elected president and Marilyn Dean, secretary. Soon afterwards, during Spring Fever Week, Quill and Scroll was represented at the school carnival by a taste-tempting cookie-walk booth.

Literary Arts Society's first officers were Anne Hodgkins, vice-president; Debby Walker, treasurer; Jennifer Bickel, secretary; Donna Lange, parliamentarian; Lynn Shumamoto, reporter-historian; Dan Wallace, president; Mrs. Jennifer Sullivan, sponsor.

Literary Arts Society Debuts At MacArthur

Although it was just organized this year, the Literary Arts Society has quickly stepped into the active pace of club activities at MacArthur. For entertainment, the members went to see "The Twelfth Night" at Dallas Theater Center and "Medea" at the Music Hall. In April, the club published "Life Tides," a literary magazine made up entirely of students' compositions. It has not taken the Literary Society long to become firmly established in the club scene at MacArthur.

NHS Holds Forth Knowledge

Membership in the General Douglas MacArthur Chapter of the National Honor Society, sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Wilson, is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a junior or senior in high school. Inducted twice yearly, members are students who have an enthusiasm for scholarship, a desire to render service, an exemplary character, and worthy leadership. Each candidate must be judged by the entire faculty and must have maintained a grade average of A— or better.

Activities of the National Honor Society include a daily tutoring service, the two induction ceremonies, numerous service projects, scholarship programs, and an installation banquet in the spring honoring past and present officers.

Discussing plans for Key Club activities are Dellis May, treasurer; Eric Carlson, sophomore representative; Keith Ditto, secretary; Steve Nance, president; Paul Chan, junior representative; Freddie Powers, vice-president.

Guest speaker at the Key Club Americanism program was Mr. John Maness, U.S.M.C., retired.

Key Club Serves Community

A service club of boys sponsored by Mr. Jack Singley, the MacArthur Key Club is affiliated with the Irving Kiwanis Club. It is a part of a national organization dedicated to developing leadership and character in today's young men.

This organization is composed of responsible individuals dedicated to serve others through various school, community, and personal projects. During 1967 and 1968, one of the projects of the Key Club was an Americanism program with a guest speaker, Mr. John Maness, U.S.M.C., retired. As the first assembly in MacArthur's new field house, his address was extremely well received. A second worthwhile project was the awarding of the Key Club scholarship.

Students Aid Librarians

Contributing much to the smooth operation of the MacArthur library, students assist the librarians in many ways. They check books in and out, shelve books, file, and type.

The experience one gets from working in the library is of great value to each student. He will have a chance to get acquainted with other students, to learn to work with others, and to accept and carry out instructions.

The library has a light hearted side as well as a serious side. Each student learns to have fun while he works.

MacArthur Rocket Society Launches Excitement

The MacArthur Rocket Society, sponsored by Mr. Don Josefy, provides an incentive for those boys who have an interest in physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology, photography, or just plain fun and excitement. Members of this organization build model rockets and blast them hundreds of feet into the air on Saturday mornings in the student parking lot. Kindling interest in rocketry and scientific exploration, this club inspires students to become scientists and engineers of the future.

Science Club Experiments With Fun

The MacArthur Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Robert McCrea and Mrs. Verna Wood, is a member of the Science Clubs of America. This organization is designed to acquaint members with the science industry around them through field trips to various industrial and research centers in the Greater Dallas area. This year, aside from the usual field trips, these students visited the Bryon Adams Science Symposium where they were able to talk with some of the top scientists in the Southwest. They ended the year with a wildly unscientific ice skating party.

Future Teachers Guide Teachers Of Today

FTA members turned the tables by lending a guiding hand to today's teachers at an in-service training session held at MHS. Prior to this service, students received advice from experienced teachers on laying groundwork for the teaching profession. Training began earlier in the year when Mrs. Youngblood talked to members about her teaching experiences in the history department. Later Miss Gregory, a student teacher, advised them about college life.

As further preparation, thirty members attended the TSTA Convention in February which was held at Dallas Memorial Auditorium. Entertainment was provided by Miss Teenage America, Stephanie Crane, former Miss America, Marilyn Vanderbilt, and the famous Jesse Lopez Band.

Young Secretaries Train For Future

Besides monthly meetings (which are planned by the advisors and sponsors), members are invited to an all day seminar in the spring. This seminar is sponsored by the Golden Triangle Chapter. FSA engenders interest in the secretarial field and encourages continuing education through association with those engaged in the secretarial profession.

FHA Teaches Essentials Of Home Living

Future Homemakers of America consists of students who have taken or are now taking one or more home-making classes. The main purpose of this organization is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living.

Entertainment for the year came through an Open House for new members, a trip to the state fair, an Hawaiian Luau, the annual Mother-Daughter banquet and Father-Daughter picnic. This year, FHA members chose Stan Patterson as FHA beau.

Victoire pour les Français!

Vive La France

At the beginning of the year, new members were inducted into the French club with a welcoming party. French club activities ranged from winning the International Powderpuff Football Tournament to dining at a French restaurant. Members also enjoyed attending an ice hockey game. A French Exchange student attending the University of Dallas spoke to French students about life in France. The year came to a close with an all-language club picnic.

Los Amigos

Providing activities and entertainments associated with the Spanish culture and language, the Spanish club consists of students who have studied Spanish. Among their activities is a basketball game with the faculty, a powderpuff football game, a hayride and wiener roast, a Christmas party, and a Spring picnic. The members also enjoyed eating at "Casa Dominguez."

Horseback riding, a picnic, parties, and eating at a German restaurant are among the many activities of the German club. Although there is little German culture offered in this area, the club helps to establish a source of identification for those students studying German. In this way they tend to want to speak the language more.

Gymnastics Club Tumbles Into Existence

Students interested in gymnastics just naturally tumbled into club formation as the '67-'68 school year began. The club met every week on Wednesday and Thursday immediately after school in the girls' gym. These afternoon sessions were provided to give members a chance to learn and practice new tumbling techniques. Later in the year, members were given an opportunity to show their skills during gymnastic meets at various schools.

Club officers are Cheryl Nichols, secretary; Julie McKinnon, treasurer; Tony Poston, vice-president; Shelley Frost, president.

Y-Teens Begin Services

Y-Teens, a service organization sponsored by YWCA of Irving, has made their first year at MacArthur a success. As their service to the community, sixty-three members enjoyed giving orphans and poverty-stricken children a Christmas party. To make money for other projects was the prime purpose for setting up a popular sponge throw booth at the Spring Fever carnival. Members excitedly finished the school year with a colorful spring banquet and picnic.

DECA Students Prepare For Business World

Being the only national youth organization of its kind, Distributive Education attracts young people to careers in marketing and distribution. Members of this club learn to serve as leaders and followers, and have opportunity for state and national recognition that they would not have otherwise.

This year DECA members competed in area and state conferences in February. They held their annual banquet in the Spring.

ICT Adds A Professional Touch To MHS

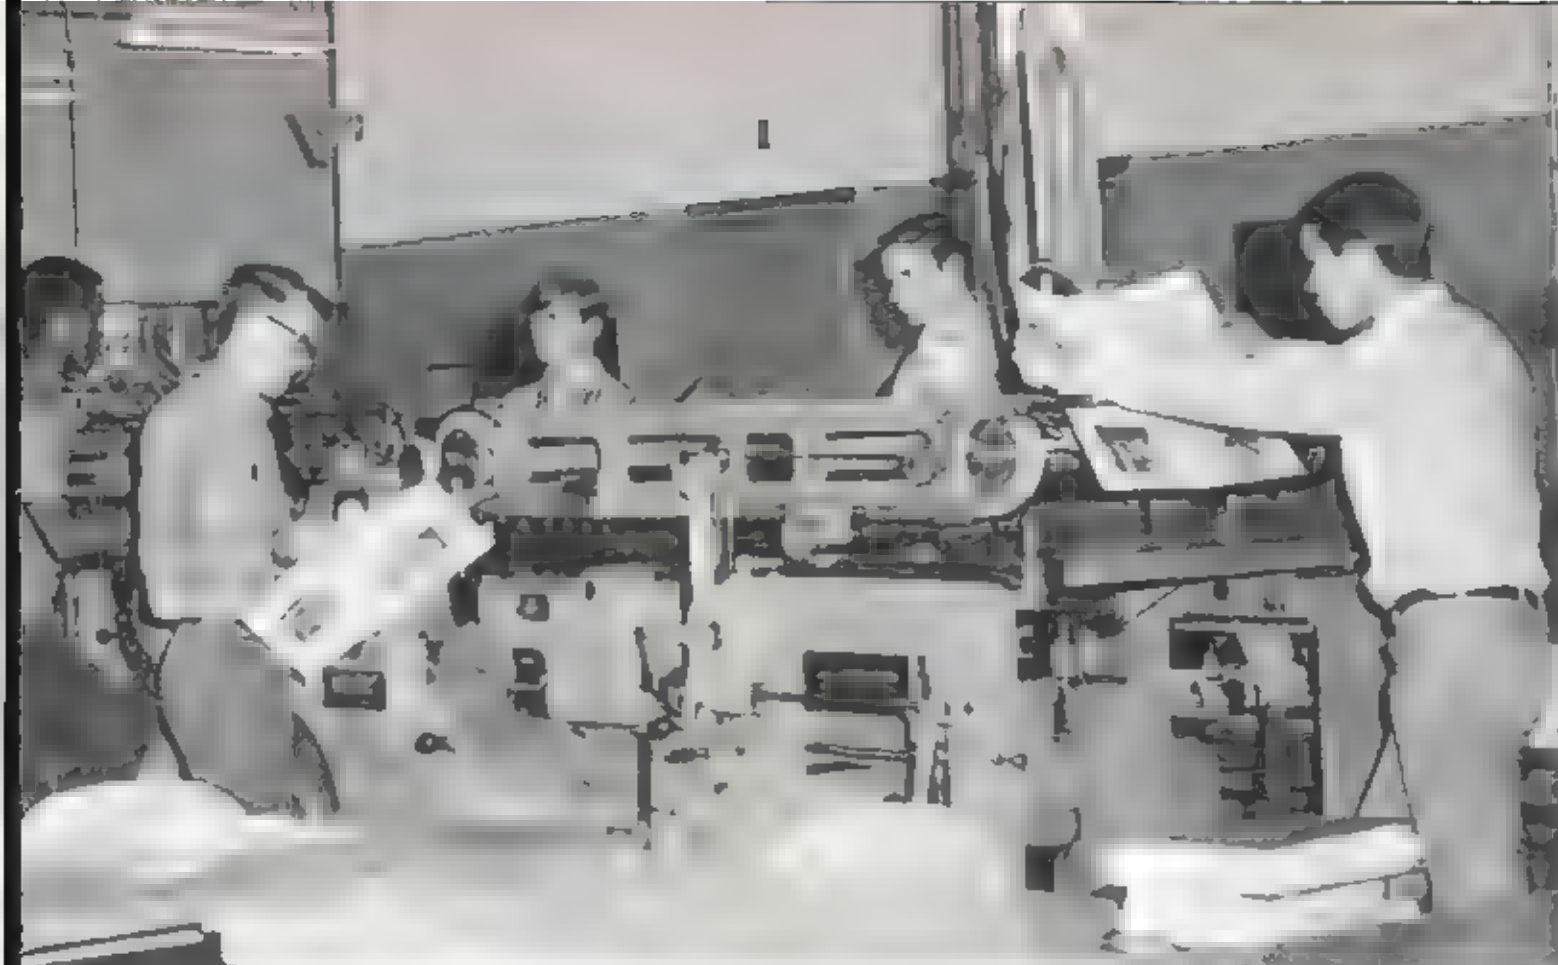

MacArthur's ICT club gives its members an excellent background for leadership and offers many enjoyable activities during the school year. ICT started this year off with their entry in the homecoming parade. A professional touch was added to MacArthur when just before Christmas, ICT members sold return address labels and personalized stationery. During March, ICT members won high honors in the district contest in Carrollton. Debbie Green was awarded a membership in the Vocational Honor Society.

Students Learn Printing Skills

Composed of students taking printing, the Vocational Industrial Club of America, Printing Chapter No. 337, develops leadership abilities through participation in educational tours and programs, community projects, and banquets. In VICA competition, MacArthur students won 15 district and 10 state ribbons. These contests gave members an opportunity to compare their skills with other members studying the same trade all over the United States.

Tale Feather Makes Headlines

Hustling around the journalism room, the Tale Feather staff manages to publish the school newspaper twice a month. Pasting up pages, typing up stories, and editing pages, kept this year's newspaper busy. The staff is headed by the editor-in-chief, Davey Horton. Crest Staff

Cutlines, copy, headlines, pictures, deadlines—these are a few of the problems which confront Crest staffers. Each problem, however, has a solution, as these yearbook workers quickly learn. With many hours of diligent labor, the staff members, together with the editor, Marilyn Dean, and the advisor, Mrs. Ginna Rhodes, have striven successfully to make the '68 Crest a more complete and beautiful yearbook than ever before.

Tigers Scratch Cards 15-0

Clawing our Cardinals with their smashing ground attack, the Irving Tigers managed to score heavily in the first half. Two touchdowns and two conversions fell into the Tigers' paws, giving them a score of 15 points at the end of the second quarter. Returning to the field after the first half, Big Mac showed a stronger defense, preventing the Tigers from scoring. Though they fought hard, the Cards still failed to score: thus the first game of the season ended Irving—15. MacArthur—0.

Cards Domesticate Lions 40-6

Enchantment prevailed over MacArthur's first Homecoming as the Big Red Cards brought home their first touchdown on the second play of the game. Larry Morgan's interception and fast action gave the feverish stands their first gasp of excitement in the game. By the end of the game, the rampaging Red Birds had captured their first district win, 40-6.

Mike Conners, one of the newest members of the team, looked bright as he came down with one of Johnston's passes and stepped out for a 40 yard touchdown. Meanwhile Charlie Schreiber and Andy Banks, abducting passes from the Lions' quarterback, joined Gordon Fagg in streaming over the goal.

Mr. Burke

Promoted To Principal

Amidst the everyday excitement and confusion of a school day, one figure stands predominant—Mr. Paul Burke, our principal. He and his staff are working constantly to make a healthy, learning environment at MacArthur. Their efforts to make school a pleasant and unique experience are realized and appreciated by students.

Mr. Burke's service to the field of education has included thirteen years of teaching, three years as vice-principal at Bowie, and four years as vice-principal at MacArthur. Having this background, it came as no surprise when he was promoted to principal upon Mr. Casey's departure.

This year at MacArthur has been a good one. Students have overcome their problems and have excelled in their studies. This excellence of attitude and spirit will be carried over to future occupations. Their resulting successes can be traced back to their achievements at MacArthur while under the leadership of Mr. Paul Burke.

Mr. Burke keeps a watchful eye on the affairs of education.

W. T. HANES

The Crest wishes to pay tribute to Mr. W. T. Hanes on his eleventh year as superintendent of the Irving Independent School District. Public Education in Irving has seen a decade of leadership by a man of courage and conviction—courage to accept the challenges pertaining to the welfare of his community and conviction to stand firm on his beliefs.

The custodial and cafeteria staffs were barely noticed at MacArthur, not because they didn't do their duties, but because they did them so well. The custodians came early and left late. Neat landscaping and clean halls were obvious results of their work. The cafeteria workers did an equally good job. The snack bar made it possible for students to eat their favorite foods while the lunch line provided nourishing meals year around. The indirect services of these two staffs contributed greatly to MacArthur's comfortable atmosphere.

English Foundation For Life

To fully appreciate the contributions of the English Department, we must consider the role that English plays in every student's life. From the first grade, English teachers draw the blueprints by which the student will later build his life. The main objectives for these plans are to teach the students to think clearly, to listen imaginatively, to read thoughtfully, to write creatively, and to respect good English. Records, tapes, television, films, and overhead projectors play a vital role in accomplishing these objectives.

Dwight Elmore

Through the major break-throughs of dedicated scientists, we can learn of their accomplishments and marvel at their ingenuity. We can recreate that moment of discovery with each new formula. It is the goal of the Science Department to instill in every student some knowledge of the world and universe that surrounds him. To create a more exploratory atmosphere—to make each student curious about his surroundings, MHS has given students the chance to peer into the world of micro-organisms and to experiment in chemistry. For each student lies the chance to explore the unknown.

Typing And Business Views The Business World

Shirley Cleveland

One can not venture into the world without some knowledge of the fundamental processes of business and consumer problems. Business math, general business, bookkeeping, and business law are courses designed to acquaint the student with these problems. Such courses as typing, shorthand, stenographic practice, and clerical practice prepare the students for positions immediately after graduation.

Betty Bledsoe

Dorothy Darby

SHIRLEY CLEVELAND—(Typing I and Stenographic practice) the head of the business department, is a liaison between the business teachers and the administration. A sponsor of the FSA and junior class, she also participates in the Interscholastic League in charge of typing and shorthand.

BETTIE REICHERT—(Bookkeeping I and Typing I), a senior class sponsor, received her degree from Teacher's College in Huntsville, Texas.

The Fine Arts Department exists to develop the individual potential of the talented. By emphasizing the basic standards of quality, the band and choral classes help each student to excel, through competition and concerts, to reach his ultimate goal. The art and drama classes strive to make it easier for the individual to express himself. If their students can go into the world with a knowledge of themselves, this department will have fulfilled its purpose.

Charles Whitson

Who knows what unknown talents may develop in the drafting room of MHS?

JEAN BARTON—(Homemaking and Family Living, Homemaking I and III) serves the Homemaking Department by coordinating curriculum, supplying equipment, and reporting to the Texas Educational Agency on department activities.

Mrs. Dean, a student teacher, discusses fabrics with homemaking students.

Homemakers Manage Responsibilities

Theota Baylis

Barbara Copeland

Paula Elliot

THEOTA BAYLIS—(Homemaking I and II) spent a summer in Hawaii doing graduate work for her masters degree from Eastern Michigan University.

BARBARA COPELAND—(Homemaking I and II) a graduate of East Texas State University, sponsors the Future Homemakers of America.

PAULA ELLIOT—(Homemaking I and II, Interior Decorating) comes to us from Tennessee where she graduated from George Peabody College for Teachers.

Students learn by experience as they make chow-chow under the supervision of Mrs. Barton.

The homemaking classes are geared to the needs of the young lady who one day will be responsible for a home and family. To prepare her for this task, the homemaking classes include cooking, sewing, nursing, child care, personal grooming, and interior decorating. Making a home a happy and comfortable place to live is a science and an art, unifying knowledge from many fields. The graduates of this worthwhile course are capable of facing future crises with confidence.

JUDY CHACCHIA—(Girls PE and Health) a Y-Teens sponsor, enjoys sking and has traveled for pleasure to Canada, Mexico, and the Bahamas.

GEORGE HOOVER—(Boys PE and Health) freshman class sponsor, enjoys bowling, sking, and fishing.

Judy Chacchia

George Hoover

Gay Johns

GAY JOHNS—(Girls Health) spends many of her spare evenings square dancing. She received her B.S. from NTSU.

EVA JONES—(Girls PE) a graduate from NTSU, collects antiques as a hobby.

BOB LEDBETTER—(Boys Health, Baseball, and Football) is a graduate from Oklahoma, where he graduated from Southeastern State College.

PATTY RAMSEY (Girls PE) sponsors the cheerleaders, gymnastic team, Y-Teens, and Big Mac Keepers, enjoys skiing, and scubba diving in her spare time.

GEORGIA REGELSKY—(Girls PE) a senior class sponsor, is from Pennsylvania and a graduate of the University of North Dakota.

DONA SAMSEL—(Girls PE) freshman class sponsor, and sponsor of the gymnastics team, graduated from Central State College in Edmond, Oklahoma.

SUSAN SHAMBURGER—(Girls PE) a dog obedience training instructor and raises boxers for a hobby. She has written a comparative analysis of the physical fitness program in other states.

Physical Education Emphasizes Importance of Fitness

Coy Williams

COY WILLIAMS' duties as head of the department consist of ordering equipment, making reports, duty assignments and taking care of the towel service. He enjoys playing golf and spent 6 months on the professional golf tour throughout the United States and the Caribbean.

The Thinker

John Smith

Charles Stephenson

Bill Wren

JOHN SMITH—(P.E.) freshman class sponsor, received his BS from NTSU and likes to fish and hunt.

CHARLES STEPHENSON—(P.E.) A NTSU graduate, enjoys hunting and fishing.

BILL WREN—(P.E.) toured Germany, Greece, Crete, and North Africa during his military service.

New developments in the Physical Education department include activities such as soccer, speedball, wrestling, and the adaptive program which was organized for those not able to participate in the regular activities. A graduation requirement made Physical Education a mandatory subject for all sophomores, juniors, and seniors. In the fall, girls acquired skills in softball, hockey, archery and tennis, as the boys engaged in football, and basketball. While baseball and track captured the boys' attention in the spring, the girls played volleyball, and practiced tumbling and gymnastics. The varied physical activities developed coordination and healthy bodies, thus helping students to achieve better scores on the physical fitness test.
